

After 13 successful years Yesteryear has reluctantly decided to discontinue as a regular singing and performing group and take a well earned retirement.

We've had a great time entertaining you and some exciting experiences, particularly the Gareth Malone Show on TV and, only last year, winning the Male Voice Choir section at a Welsh Music Festival, our twelve against huge choirs of sixty odd! We'll never know how we escaped being lynched that night!

So thanks to all who have supported us and the many friends we've made. Say hello if you see any of us singing in other groups. We can't retire completely!
